

CO-OP SCRATCH FEEDS

Co-op carries two types of scratch feeds to meet the supplemental energy needs of poultry. Our traditional two grain scratch is a mixture of corn and wheat and is available in either 25-pound bags (#197) or 50-pound bags (#198).

Our three grain scratch feed is a mixture of cracked corn, milo, and wheat. Available in 50-pound (#91052) bags.

Both these feeds are designed to be fed with poultry concentrate rations, including our Premium Game Cock Feeds.

It is very important to use the right feed at the right period for the right results. It is very important to feed the birds the right feed to obtain the best results. A well developed muscle is essential.

FEED PREMIUM GAME COCK FEEDS

All these feeds except GAME COCK SCRATCH WITH GRIT contain Game Cock Supplement pellets made especially for game birds. This pellet contains a high-quality dehydrated alfalfa, a high level of meat protein products, a good level of dried milk products, and other protein products necessary for strong muscle development. High levels of vitamins A, D, E, and K and more than adequate levels of the B complex vitamins are also included along with added nutrients for fast healing and calf manna. This pellet is mixed in the right proportion with high-quality grains that have been cleaned for top-quality feeds.

SUGGESTED GAME COCK FEED PROGRAM FROM START TO FINISH

Started/Growing Period:

From hatch until about 10 to 12 weeks of age: Provide Co-op Chick Starter/Grower Ration (#104) with Coccidiostat and antibiotics.

Twelve Weeks Of Age:

Begin feeding Premium Stag Developer Ration. This ration is made for the young stag and will make for good growth and muscle development.

For Older Stags, Cocks, and Hens:

Feed Base Mix or Rooster Kicker. These rations contain high levels of the necessary vitamins and minerals for good feather development, muscle development, stamina, and power. Reports from feeders who have used these rations say their birds don't bleed as bad, and do not require as much feed per feeding. These feeds are well fortified and should not need additional vitamin mixtures. For layers, add limestone or oyster shell for egg shell development.

The Base Mix is made up of whole shell corn. The Rooster Kicker is the same as grain base with dog food added.

When conditioning cock training, begin adding Premium Condition Ration. This ration contains high protein, flint or popcorn, Canadian peas, a high level of oat groats, a few sunflower seeds, milo, and higher levels of the necessary nutritional levels. May use Condition Ration with Scratch or other grains.

CAUTION: When feeding PREMIUM GAME COCK RATIONS DO NOT OVER FEED. When you observe the birds leaving feed, back off. Keep the birds just a bit hungry. These feeds are rich.
